COME EARLY—STAY LATE

Scottsdale, Arizona, is a blend of the wild and rugged Old West and the sophisticated New West — that's what Scottsdale has to offer vacationers. This beautiful resort community, known as "the West's most Western town," has something for everyone, plus friendly Southwestern hospitality.

A sample list of outdoor activities available in this resort community would include horseback riding, tennis, golf, swimming and hiking. Golf is a favorite year-around sport for many who come to Scottsdale, and with more than 70 courses in the area, one can play a different course each day. Tennis enthusiasts delight in the selection of hundreds of well-kept courts, which are available for both day and night play.

For more adventurous folks, the area offers such activities as hang-gliding, hot air ballooning, jeep treks into the surrounding desert and mountains, rock climbing and surfing at Big Surf, the world's only inland ocean.

The Scottsdale area offers a multitude of both Old West and New West activities for vacationers, making it a sightseer's paradise. For example, the 1880s Western town of Rawhide, located north of Scottsdale, offers stagecoach rides, gold panning, a cavernous saloon and restaurant featuring cowboy steaks, concerts featuring top entertainers plus wild West shows in the Rawhide pavilion, a sheriff's office, a blacksmith's shop, and many other Old West activities. In downtown Scottsdale, Old Town has streets lined with carefully preserved frontier-style buildings, and the stores there display everything from handmade leather goods to Indian rugs and jewelry. Art galleries exhibit the works of prominent Western artists.

Chairman's Call To Assembly

Lawrence Lew

In February of 1944 the Marauders started into Burma. That was 40 years ago. How would you like to try it today. Even by tailing a mule, most of us would have difficulty making the first fifty miles. Besides I have never known a Marauder to do anything the hard way so why not celebrate this 40th reunion by living in luxury at the Registry Resort in Scottsdale, Arizona, August 31 thru September 2.

We have a lot to be thankful for and to be proud of. We can be thankful that we are still living in the good old U.S.A. It may not be perfect but the rest of the world seems to think so. At least they are trying to get into this country as fast as they can. We can be proud to have served in a remarkable infantry unit and can be even prouder to have had our history and insignia adopted by the finest infantry combat unit in the United States Army. I am, of course, referring to the Rangers who so recently jumped into Grenada to secure the new airstrip and make it possible for Fidel's Cubans to get back to their island paradise and their loved ones.

Let's saddle up and head down the trail for another rendezvous. The marches are getting harder and the breads are getting longer but the tales must be getting better as we still listen. Even if we are sober most of the time.

Just Remember: There will be a lot fewer Marauders at the 50th than at the 40th reunion!

State University, the Phoenix Zoo, Legend City, the Desert Botanical Garden, the Gila River Indian community, Pueblo Grande Museum, the Heard Museum, the Arizona State Capitol, the Superstition Mountains (location of the famous Lost Dutchman Mine), the Japanese Flower Gardens, Fountain Hills (with the world's highest fountain), Sun City, and the Mormon Temple in Mesa.

Visitors enjoy browsing in the more than 2,500 retail stores in Scottsdale, which stock everything from cowboy hats to Oriental rugs. The swank Fifth Avenue shops, major department stores and Western shops offer something for everyone.

One of the newest additions to the shopping scene in Scottsdale is the Borgata of Scottsdale, a 7-acre shopping complex fashioned after an Italian Renaissance village. The tiled courtyards and fountains in the Borgata make shopping there a most pleasant and unique experience. The complex has 50 exclusive shops, boutiques and restaurants offering the finest fashions for men, women and children as well as the best in jewelry, perfumes, chocolates, gourmet food items, toys and records.

Conveniently located in the heart of Old Town Scottsdale, the newly-opened Scottsdale Farmers Market offers "a return to the good old days of quality and service" with its unique variety of mini restaurants, arts and crafts booths, and flower, produce, meat and seafood stands.

The City of Scottsdale provides its own unique transportation system for visitors during the peak tourist season: three old-fashioned, open air trolley cars that link the major resorts and hotels with Scottsdale's central shopping areas.

For an unforgettable day trip, make a flight over the Grand Canyon, "the world's greatest sculpture." Scheduled and charter air tours depart daily from Scottsdale Municipal and Sky Harbor International airports. Flying time to the canyon is approximately one hour and 15 minutes. And for those who wish to travel at a more leisurely pace, motor coach tours also are available. The 220-mile trip takes about five hours one way.

Other popular excursions include flights and motor coach tours to Las Vegas, Mexico and West Coast cities.

Within easy access of Scottsdale are a number of places to go for a day's visit or an overnight excursion. A partial list includes Montezuma's Castle, with its ancient cliff dwellings; Tombstone, the home of the O.K. Corral; Paolo Soleri's "city of the future" Arcosanti; Jerome, an Arizona ghost town; Lake Havasu City, now the home of the London Bridge; the Painted Desert; Sedona and Oak Creek Canyon with its magnificent red rock formations; the Petrified Forest; Roosevelt Dam; San Xavier Mission; Nogales, Mexico; and Bisbee, the turquoise capital of the West.

With its interesting blend of Old West and New West activities and amenities, sunny Scottsdale is the perfect place for a vacation, as more and more people of all ages are discovering.

From the Executive Secretary

Your response to the China War Medal has kept me busy. If your request for certification has not been filled, please let me know.

The trust for Randi Cline, born February 1, 1984, is on and still going. Mother and daughter are doing fine. A Universal Life Insurance Policy has been bought for the child. It was the best investment vehicle available that would accomplish the intent (scholarship fund). The Merrill's Marauders Association appreciates and thanks the contributors.

While thanking people, our organization again is beholding to David Quaid, ie — Legion of Merit award.

GOT YOU!

We've Got You in Black and White — Photos That Is

Most of us do not remember having our pictures taken forty years ago. But many were. We spent two weeks at the Army Photo Laboratory, last September. We checked every photo in their files, taken in Burma. We purchased hundreds of them.

They will be on display at reunions. Memories — of times and places and friends.

We bought extra copies of some, for those of us who are on our Directory list. Anyone wanting an 8 x 10 copy, black and white, send us $5 each to cover association costs. If we do not have it on hand, we will order it for you.

The list following was provided by the original photographer. The names may be mis-spelled; the addresses go back to 1944-45. If the address is near you, will you help us track them down?

Send checks to Merrill's Marauders, c/o Ray Lyons, Historian, 11233 N. 3rd St., Phoenix, Arizona 85028.

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY . . .

Sergeant QUAID, as Combat Photographer, 164th Signal Photographic Company, displayed exceptional devotion to duty, originality, courage, and initiative in taking motion pictures of Merrill's Marauders' operations in North Burma. Despite enemy fire, adverse weather, and difficult terrain, Sergeant QUAID succeeded in taking motion pictures which, in addition to their contribution to combat photographic technique, possessed special value as documentary films of the fighting in Burma. The excellent coverage obtained, Sergeant QUAID's disregard for his personal safety in achieving his mission, and his initiative and aggressiveness contributed materially to the excellent photographic record made of the campaign in North and Central Burma."

The decoration will be forwarded to the Commanding General, Second Service Command, Governors Island, New York, who will make the necessary arrangements for the presentation. The officer selected will communicate with you concerning your wishes in the matter.

Sincerely yours,
EDWARD F. WITSELL
